100 MILKMEN ON STRIKE; 400 MORE
ARE LOCKED OUT

Dairies Involved in Tieup Are the Pevely, Union, St. Louis and Grafeman.

FEW DELIVERIES MADE

Smaller Concerns Doing Business—Customers of "Big Four" Must Call for Milk.

A strike of 500 milk wagon drivers of the St. Louis, Pevely, Union, and Grafeman Dairy companies, which has been in prospect for two weeks, was precipitated early this morning, when, following the report that the men had quit work at the St. Louis Dairy Co., the union drivers were locked out at the three other firms. Delivery of milk to customers in all parts of the city was suspended, and the customers had to go to dairy salesrooms, grocery stores, or bakeries for their milk, or do without it.

George Maddox, superintendent of the St. Louis Dairy Co., said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the drivers who appeared at the company's stables, beginning at 1 a. m., refused to go to work, and instead began picketing the place, saying a strike was on, and that they would not let anyone take the wagons out. The St. Louis Dairy Co. employs 100 drivers.

Other Dairies Act.

The other companies were notified of this action, and in accordance with a previous arrangement, they at once ordered their drivers to withdraw from the union or quit work. The men left their jobs and began picketing the various stables.

Some union officials denied that a strike had been called at the St. Louis Dairy Co. this morning, although a general vote in favor of a strike was taken two weeks ago, the vote being 411 to 4. The union officials said the strike was to have been delayed a few days longer, in order that the union might arrange to supply babies and sick persons with milk.

The union officials called a meeting for this afternoon at the union headquarters, 2228 Olive street, and said a plan of campaign would be formed there with a view to obtaining their demands from the four dairy companies, which are known as the "Big Four" in the local milk trade.

The men are demanding an increase of wages to $15 a week, plus a commission of 6 per cent on all sales. They want $15 a week, plus a commission of 15% per cent on all sales, in excess of $450 a month. The drivers say the most they can make under the present system is $30 a month, and that the most they could make under the proposed new scale would be $40 a month. The employers say the men are demanding a virtual doubling of their wages, and that the business will not bear such an added burden.

Small Concerns Not Involved.

The union men said nearly 500 of their comrades were still at work, in the employ of smaller dairy companies. Arrangements are being made, the union officials said, by which anyone in need of dairy products can call up the union headquarters and can get the needed supplies delivered by one of the smaller companies.

Two motor trucks were sent out by the St. Louis Dairy Co., one to deliver milk to grocery stores, the other to cover routes previously mapped out for supplying milk to families with babies. The union men said there would be no interference with the delivery of milk to babies.

At Page and Union boulevards the truck making deliveries to grocery stores was halted by union men in Chicago today to attend the twelfth annual reunion of the Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott who came to Plymouth in 1620, and to whom more than 5000 persons trace their ancestry through 10 generations.

The affair had the aspect more of a national convention than of a family reunion. The program extends through Thursday and includes registration of members, business meetings, reports of committees, election of officers, addresses and all the other earmarks of the annual convention of a large commercial or fraternal organization.

James Cowgill was nominated for the State committee and were elected without opposition.

Young at the State Capitol
Stole $1200 in Stamps

Confesses, but Will Not Be Prosecuted—Discharged, Joins the Army.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 8.—Wayne Mueller, stamp clerk in the Attorney-General's office for the last seven and a half years, joined the United States army yesterday, following his discharge upon his confession to Assistant Attorney-General Rutherford that he had embezzled $1200 in stamps. He will not be prosecuted.

Mueller is 20 years old and came here from California, Mo.

The youth would abstract sheets of stamps during the month and when he received money to purchase more would substitute the ones he had stolen and keep the money. He also ordered articles from mail order houses with stamps, refusing to accept them on their arrival and have the money returned to him.

Mueller said he had started stealing when he was first employed under Gov. Major, then Attorney-General.

Lightning Strikes Judge Revelli.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 8.—Judge Charles G. Revelli of the Missouri Supreme Court was struck by lightning when motoring with a party of friends near here last night and became unconscious. Physicians said today he would recover. The other occupants of the car, Judge Fred Williams, Jacob D. Allen and William H. Allen, were uninjured.

ITALIANS GAIN IN TWO SECTORS

Bersaglieri Cyclists Engaged in Fierce Hand-to-Hand Fighting in Monfalcone Area.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The Italian offensive along the Isonzo and on the Carso Plateau is being continued, and, according to a wireless dispatch from Rome, additional positions have been occupied. The Austrians hold little ground on the right bank of the Isonzo; the number of prisoners taken by the Italians has been increased considerably and the Austrians are said to be destroying villages in the vicinity of Gorizia.

The official statement issued last night at Rome said:

"On the river Isonzo our troops began yesterday an attack on some strong enemy positions, while in the Monfalcone sector our offensive, which began on the 6th, made progress toward Hills 111 and 121. After effective preparation by artillery and trench mortars, our troops carried several lines of the enemy's entrenchments."

"In the Monfalcone area, after fierce hand-to-hand fighting, Bersaglieri cyclists of the third, fourth and eleventh battalions took and held against several violent counter attacks nearly the whole of Hill 85. During yesterday's fighting we took 3500 prisoners, including 100 officers, one of whom was a regimental commander and one a staff major; a battery of three guns, several dozen machine guns, numerous rifles and much ammunition."

The troops which so distinguished themselves are from Leghorn and Turin. They carried out an enveloping movement.

Hindenburg's Command From Baltic to Tarnopol Only.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 8.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's authority over the Austro-German army now extends from the Baltic to a point west of Tarnopol, according to the Norddeutsche Almanach Zeitung. All the troops to the south of Tarnopol, including the German "Southern army" and the German troops in the Carpathians still belong to the army under the Austrian Crown Prince.

Russians Admit Retirement in Kermanshah Region.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 8.—An official statement issued last night said:

"Under pressure of the Turks our troops in Persia have retired to the region east of Kermanshah."

Italian and Austrian Warships in Adriatic Fight.

BERLIN, Aug. 8, by wireless to Sayville.—An engagement between Italian and Austrian warships occurred on Aug. 2, following a raid on the Italian coast by Austrian torpedo boats. An official statement issued at Vienna says that Italian warships were struck, and that the fight was fierce. The Austrian vessels were unharmed.

The announcement says:

"Austro-Hungarian torpedo boats on Aug. 2 shelled military establishments at Wolfe. They destroyed an aeroplane shed, set a factory on fire and inflicted other damage."

"On their return these vessels, which were joined by the cruiser Aspern, developed an engagement with an Italian flotilla of one cruiser and six destroyers. The Italians were hit, and the southward disappeared. The Austro-Hungarian vessels returned unharmed."

"The torpedo boat Magnet on Aug. 2 was hit by a torpedo from a hostile submarine and damaged in the stern. Two men were killed and four wounded, and seven are missing. The vessel was brought to port."

Bomb Concessions Affect Aviators 900 Feet Up.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Aug. 8.—The aviators felt the concession 900 feet in the air when a brigade of British aeroplanes bombed Hainaut Lille, according to American news.

When the German shells and smoke house at Marigny were fired by incendiary bombs at vast pillar of smoke from the conflagration rose to a height of 800 feet.

Overwhelming numbers of planes are concentrated on the narrow front of the Somme battle in co-operation with a superior, unceasing volume of gunfire. Every village occupied by the Germans in the neighborhood of the front has had its aerial bombardment.

125 GIRLS SEALING 10,000 BAGS FOR CHARITY BALL GAME

Packages of Peanuts and Popcorn Contain Coupons to Be Redemmed by Prizes.

The 125 girls who are to sell popcorn, peanuts and candy at the charity base camp between the St. Louis Browns and the Washington Nationals at Sportsman's Park tomorrow have begun the task of sealing and packing 10,000 bags of popcorn and peanut.

The bags already have been filled at the warehouse, but each had to have a coupon inserted and the top sealed before being placed in the little red and white baskets from which the girls will sell them. The coupons state the names of the presents that go with each bag, and are exchangeable for the articles themselves when presented at the Ball Game Committee's headquarters at Seventh and Locust streets, any time this week.

A boy's marathon, to be run over a miles course at the ball park will be the first event. About 15 boys will start, and the trophies will be five silver cups and five bronze medals. There will be a cabaret before the game.

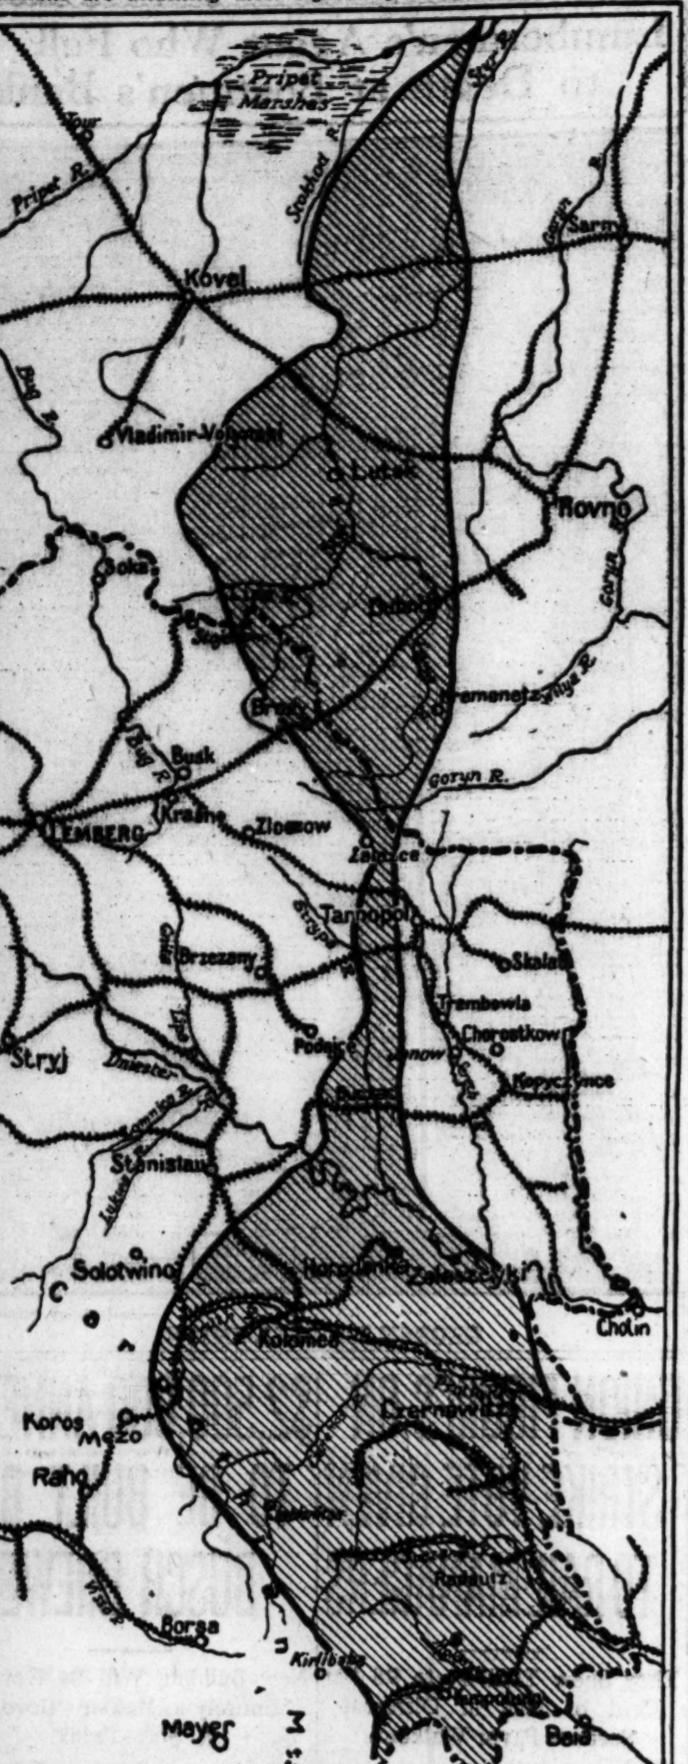

The game and its preceding events will be for the benefit of the St. Louis Tuberculosis Society.

Lightning Starts Oil Fire.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 8.—Crude oil valued at $10,000 was destroyed here last night in a fire which started by lightning and struck three oil tanks of the Gulf Pipe Line Co. near El Vista.

BRITISH EXPERT PRAISES SENATE NAVAL PROGRAM

Admiral Bridge Believes Proposed Increase in Ships Is Wisely Proportioned.

SAYS PLAN IS "MODEST"

Thinks There Should Be No Difficulty in Completing Vessels in 3 Years.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 27.—The naval program of the United States is a modest one, in the opinion of Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge, retired, one of England's greatest naval experts and counsellors. Admiral Bridge was formerly commander-in-chief of the Australian forces and director of naval intelligence. Since his retirement he has served on various commissions inquiries into various branches of naval activity.

"I cannot regard," said Admiral Bridge, "the naval appropriation and the program agreed upon by the United States Senate as more than modest, considering in connection with your resources and requirements, or when we remember that the strength of the [British] force should be commensurate with the treasures that tempt."

Slides in Canal.

"The action of your Government seems timely. I have been one of those who consider the Panama Canal as an even greater asset for defensive purposes than for commercial advantage, and I believe that a larger naval program for your country certainly is justified by the inability to place perfect confidence in the canal's availability on account of slides now and then. I refer, of course, to the emergency of transferring quickly from one side of your continent to the other your ships in case of attack, bearing in mind the wisdom of your being able to succeed on both sides until the problems of slides have been definitely solved, enough naval strength to meet any attack. It appears that your naval experts have duly considered this point in making provision for 157 additional ships, including 16 capital ships in a program to be completed within the next three years. With your present strength, such an addition will, indeed, place your power on the sea next to that of Britain."

"I think it was in about 1800 or 1807 that your country attained to second place as a sea power, after proceeding neck and neck with Germany and France for a number of years. Then the United States seemed to lose interest and fall behind Germany. It must, therefore, be a wise precaution for you to plan now on such a wholesome scale."

"Notwithstanding some divergence of opinion on the subject, I think that it is quite safe to say that the lessons of naval engagements in the war have justified the generally accepted division into classes of fighting craft—battleships, heavy and light cruisers, destroyers, and, perhaps, submarines."

Submarine Secondary.

"I use the qualifying word with reference to submarines because, in my opinion, the submarine has not proved a very important fighting factor during the present war. Perhaps, contrary to popular impression, the submarine has affected only to a very slight degree the tonnage available for the maritime purposes of the contente states. Indeed, the shortage of tonnage which has been causing so much inconvenience is due in an overwhelming proportion to the absorption of ships naval and military purposes. Notwithstanding this fact, the possibility of the development of the submarine must not be left out of account."

"It would accordingly seem wise to consider very carefully whether the huge dimensions of the latest capital ships are compatible with the possible employment in the near future of highly developed submarines."

"I understand it is now possible to control the fire of ships in groups, a fact not considered possible a few years ago. The belief in its impossibility was the reason for the concentration of so many guns of huge caliber in a single ship, thus necessitating mammoth displacements and creating better targets for torpedoes. If the fire of groups of ships can be satisfactorily controlled, that reason consequently no longer exists."

"The size and power of individual guns, therefore, need not be reduced, and if the same calibers are retained, somewhat smaller ships might carry a reduced number of guns. The number of ships could be increased."

"Coming to the lesson of the battle of Jutland, the most striking result to my mind was that the guns, and not the torpedoes were, generally speaking, the weapons that told. It is also of remarkable interest to note the considerable period during which our ships were in action without being very seriously damaged by the German fire, which seems to confirm Admiral Farquhar's dictum that the best armor is the drive chain."

Ships referred to in your program in the specified three years. And if the 13 could be finished, as stated, there seems little ground to fear but that in three years the other vessels called for could be completed. To the guns, it would appear that they would be the least pressing portion of your problem, though they will have to proceed in taking form even more rapidly."

OF our ships the Marborough was the only one that suffered from torpedo attack, and she kept fighting and made out so well that she was able to return to her base at 21 knots. What the actual German losses were by torpedoes we don't know definitely, though our destroyers were dashing forward to the foe constantly during the engagement and they must have been effective in several instances. The point is that it was a gun battle.

Should Be Ready in Time.

"In addition to the classes of ships mentioned, I take it that your appropriation will cover the construction of special craft, such as mother seaplane ships, mine layers and hospital ships, and possibly even naval colliders."

"Considering the large number of building yards at your disposal it would seem plausible that you could, without inconvenience, turn out the 36 capital

HEAD OF MASTER BAKERS SAYS BREAD PRICE WILL SOON RISE

Declares in Address at Salt Lake City That Cost of Production Has Increased.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 8.—"Housewives will have to pay more for bread in the near future," declared A. Burns, president of the National Association of Master Bakers, in his annual address delivered before the convention here today.

Mr. Burns said:

"While it is true that much of the machinery used has reduced material in the amount of hand labor employed, it is equally true that up-keep and depreciation on machinery, shorter hours, higher wages, better facilities which bakers have adopted, have absorbed nearly or quite all of the savings, so that the cost, exclusive of material, of producing 1000 loaves of bread, notwithstanding all our new machinery, is much greater today than it was 10 or 20 years ago."

He gave statistics showing the various increases in the raw materials used in producing bread since 1914, and said that during this time there has been an advance in the price of bread to the consumer of from 15 to 20 per cent.

NEW ENTENTE AS TO PERSIA

England and Russia Conclude an Agreement.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 8.—Great Britain and Russia have just concluded an understanding with Persia strengthening the relations between the three countries, according to a semi-official Russian news agency dispatch from Tehran.

The dispatch said:

"A meeting has been found for consultation relating to the financial and military organization of Persia. As regards the military organization, it will be effected in North Persia by the development of the Persian brigade, and in South Persia by the formation of sufficiently strong contingents."

POLICE KILL INSANE SERVANT

Woman Barricades Herself in House and Fights to the Last.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—Insane from the heat, Ida Starr, a servant, barricaded herself in the home of John Schantz, and for almost an hour terrorized the neighborhood by firing into the street. A policeman forced his way into the house while she was still shooting at another part of the house and shot her. She died shortly afterward.

The woman was on the street when she became insane. At sight of the police she ran down the street, entered the Schantz home, locked the doors and closed the shutters. She then found a revolver and began firing.

CHARGES COERCION TO PRESIDENT

Cummins Says He Forces Democrats to Pass Laws Against Their Will.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Senator Cummins today charged President Wilson with forcing Democrats in the House and Senate to adopt legislation against their judgment, and told opponents of the child labor bill who contend it is unconstitutional that the presidential assumption of legislative functions was a greater menace to the Constitution than the passage of his son, Ray B. Hudson, 33 years old.

Cut in Louisiana Oil.

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 8.—The fourth cut of 10 cents a barrel on light oil production in North Louisiana since July 25 was posted here today by the Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana, reducing Caddo to $1.15 and De Soto to $1.05. Red River and Caddo heavy production remain unchanged at 65 cents, having dropped from $1.05 and 90 cents, respectively, during the past few weeks.

DURGIN TELLS HOW HE PLANNED
MURDER OF BRIDE

In Cell Here, Slayer Repudiated Story of Impulse Told in Los Angeles.

COULDN'T SUPPORT HER
Says He Was Happy After Shot
Because She Was "Out of Misery."

Charles Durgin, known to have been insane for 2 years today made to Detective Capt. Allendoerfer new confession of the murder of his wife, Elsie E. Elrod Durgin, at the Pontiac Hotel, Nineteenth and Market streets, July 1. Durgin was brought last night from Los Angeles, Cal., where he surrendered to the police. His later confession differed from that made in Los Angeles. He no longer says the shooting was the result of a sudden impulse, but now declares that on July 3 he decided to kill his wife.

Durgin told of his friendship for Bertha Elrod, who was employed at the Glenwood Sanitarium at Glendale, St. Louis County, where he went to work after being released from the St. Louis Sanitarium for the Insane after spending the greater part of 19 years there.

"I was sorry for her because of her condition and because I knew I couldn't support her, much less support both her and a child," he said. "I had felt myself in honor bound to marry her, though she was only 20 and I was 45. I was making only $20 a month at the Glenwood Sanitarium and I gave up my job before I married her."

After the marriage Durgin and his wife spent a short time at the home of her parents at Belle, Mo. He then went to Lexington, Mo. While there he said, he at first meant to kill himself, but later decided to kill his wife.

When he had his wife went to the hospital on the night of July 6, he said, he had an automatic pistol.

Was Happy After Shooting.

"I suggested that she lie on her left side," he said. "That was because I wanted to shoot her in the right temple."

Durgin said he shot his wife about 2 a.m.

"I then lay down, but couldn't sleep," he said. "I was happy, though, because I knew she was out of her misery."

He told of taking a train for Indianapolis at 5 a.m. and of going to Chicago later. He said he could not remember details of his journey to Los Angeles. He had $350, he said, when he departed from St. Louis.

PARK BUS WELL PATRONIZED

Culliford Says Fares Will Pay Wages of Driver and Conductor.

Use of the new auto bus in Forest Park is more than meeting expectations, Park Commissioner Culliford said. More than 1,000 passengers a day are using it, more than sufficient to pay the wages of the conductor and driver.

Yesterday there were 114 passengers on the bus, which operates on a 30-minute schedule. On the 9:30 trip this morning there were 10 passengers. The driver is paid $3 a month and the conductor $2.50 a day.

Gander Which Walks Beat With Policeman One of His Many Pets

Horn Has Private Zoo of Goats,
Ducks, Chickens and Rabbits at His Home.

Joe, a gander owned by Patrolman Joseph D. Dorn, of the Angelica street district, had his picture taken yesterday to prove that he follows Horn around when the policeman walks his beat.

Horn explained that this has not been a daily occurrence in the last six or eight weeks, as he feared the gander might be overcome by the heat. In cool weather, though, Horn says the gander is "there like a duck" when it comes to following him on his daily rounds.

Horn won the gander at a street carnival about a year ago and added him to his collection of pets at his home, 2818 Arlington avenue. Goats, ducks, chickens and rabbits make up the collection in the policeman's private zoo. Horn says one of Gander Joe's favorite diversions is fighting dogs.

Suez Canal.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—British troops pursuing the Turkish force defeated last week at Romani, have caught up with the Turkish rear guard, six miles east of Katia, about 30 miles east of El Alamein. Thirteen deaths and 60 additional cases were reported in the State outside of New York in 24 hours ending at 5 p.m. yesterday. This is a new record both as to deaths and new cases.

The intense heat and humidity wave which has gripped New York in connection with another big increase in epidemic of infantile paralysis. Only since the beginning of the start six weeks ago were there more cases than reported in today's Health Department bulletin. During the 24 hour period ending at 10 a.m., 53 children died of the disease in the greater city and 118 new cases were reported.

Since the epidemic began on June 28 there have been 5347 cases and 118 deaths.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DENTON, Tex., Aug. 8.—President F. M. Bradley of the College of Industrial Arts of Texas, in Denton, has originated something in extension work—short course for boarding house keepers in cookery. The course includes a series of lectures on food selection, preparation, serving and care.

The immediate need of such a course was to be met because many young women attending the college are becoming mothers and the number of babies born to the students is more than sufficient to pay the wages of the conductor and driver.

The work of clearing the battlefield is proceeding, and a quantity of rifles and other war material has been brought in. Two hundred of the enemy's dead have been buried in the area in which the counter-attack passed Aug. 4.

"A bomb attack by aeroplanes over Port Said and Suez inflicted little material damage and caused slight casualties."

Account of Romani Battle.

The British representative at the front at Romani sent the following under date of Aug. 5:

"At sunset yesterday, Turkish pretensions for the conquest of Egypt were irretrievably smashed.

"The brunt of the fighting was borne magnificently by the Anzac mounted troops. For more than a week they had had little rest, keeping in touch with the enemy, pushing back patrols and reconnoitering. Of the British troops, the Scottish and Warwickshire Territorials and the Warwick and Gloucester Yeomanry fought splendidly.

"At midnight on Thursday the Turks, in strength of one division, held a north and south line through Kata-Mulash about 7 miles long, with the flanks thrown westward. From a point south of Romani to the Mediterranean coast was the Scottish Infantry, while the Anzacs in front of them from an hour before daylight fought with great steadiness and determination against the well handled enemy in superior numbers, yielding ground gradually, until Major-General Lawrence could reinforce the line with more cavalry and infantry. At midday we had a line through Mahamadiya, Romania, Katia and Gannit.

"For a mile west of Romani is Wellington Ridge, which the Turks made energetic attempts to reach. Two miles due south is Mount Meredith, and here, and at Mount Royston, three miles northwest, the enemy managed to get a footing in the afternoon.

"The Turks had chosen what appeared to be the easiest path toward the canal—a broad, undulating place encircled by sand dunes. At 3 o'clock the enemy fiercely attacked Romani and Gannit, but were driven back to Abuhansha.

Germany Overstocked on Tobacco.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 8.—Germany has prohibited the importation of raw tobacco on account of the great stocks already in the empire.

Disfiguring Humor Spread Over Face

Used Resinol. Skin Now Beautiful.

"A small red place covered with little white scales appeared beside my nose. Then it began to spread over both sides of my face, and the scales cracked open, causing a terrible itching and burning. It was horrible looking and very embarrassing. I tried many salves, but could get no relief. At last I heard of Resinol and applied them as directed. The burning and itching sensation was relieved at once and in three weeks I was entirely cured. My face shows no sign of permanent damage, though my skin is considered beautiful." — (Signed) Miss Elsie D. Collins, 1920 E. Madison St., Seattle, Wash., Sept. 7, 1915.

under the name of "international law." It was our business to stand for all the rights of American citizens under international law—to vindicate international law.

Touches on Mexico.
Take, for example, the case of Mexico. We had certain things that we had a right to demand of Mexico; and there was a proper way of demanding them. We should have said that we insisted upon the protection of the lives and property of American citizens of just protection, just protection as we are entitled to from a Government that performs the functions of government.

"We could have said we would not recognize Huerta if his Government could not discharge those functions. We had no business to recognize him unless the executive was satisfied he could discharge those functions. But it was another thing to take an attitude quite apart from the protection of American rights and wage war upon an individual and try to take control of Mexican affairs in the interest of what we think they should be.

"That was precisely what was done. We did not content ourselves with not recognizing Huerta. This is the position of the administration or not recognizing Huerta. That was a matter to be determined according to proper principles, according to the understanding of the executive as to the capacity of that Government, if it was a Government, to furnish adequate protection and discharge international obligations.

Points to Huerta's Case.
"But our administration said to Huerta: 'You get out. You can't even be a candidate. We won't allow you to run for office. We are so determined to get rid of you that you can't put yourself up to be voted for.' And immediately after recognition was withdrawn from Huerta it was extended to that incomparable, that ideal character, Villa.

"In my judgment, the administration did a very wrong thing in abandoning its proper international attitude and taking the attitude that no international lawyer could understand—that no Mexican could understand.

"Well, the Mexicans didn't understand our attitude; there was a fight; 19

Americans and a large number of Mexicans were killed. And they, the administration, say they 'kept us out of war.' That was war; and very ignoble war."

"Having gotten rid of Huerta, what next do we do? We said 'Let these Mexicans spill as much blood as they want to; that is their blessed privilege.'

"So we connected with Villa, we connected with Carranza and we showed our disposition to favor any bandit in the land.

"I never heard of a more extraordinary expression than that punitive expedition sent down there. Was it a miltary expedition or was it not? If it were not a military expedition, why send it? If a military expedition, why ignore all the essential requisites of a properly managed military expedition?

Calls Arrangement "Anomalous."

"It went down there between two lines of railroads. It could not use either. When our American troops going into Mexico on a punitive expedition right between two lines of railway which they could not touch! They could not go to the town. It was an absurdly arranged expedition. Of course it could not succeed. Of course we got into trouble and more blood was shed.

"My friends, we have made people dislike us because we did not have a straight and clear path. The path of international right is like the path of just that—there have been more and more differences who your opponent. And you state position that is right and he knows that it is right you are going to establish the justice of your cause. And America, with her power, never need be afraid of exposing a just cause.

"Let the Mexicans once for all understand that we do not intend to meddle with their affairs, that we desire that they shall perform their obligations to us, to protect our citizens, protect them justly in the enjoyment of their lives and their property; that they will perform the guarantees that they have given us and then we shall have peace and happiness.

Hughes Makes 6 Speeches Criticizing Administration

If they can establish a stable government, we will do all that we can to support it. Talk about policy, what is the President's policy? Does anyone know? Has the executive ever had a policy for more than six months in the Mexican question?

I repeat, who knows today what the policy of the administration will be months from now? The trouble is that this administration has written a record that, no matter what it says, you don't know whether it will respect it. You cannot make much progress along that line.

Protection to Americans.

Now, then, we want, in the first place, to have our record perfectly clear, that we are going to insist that Mexico shall treat our citizens properly; and we are going to insist in a way that will make us respect it because we are not going to say we are not entitled to it, but we are going to see that this is done which we are entitled to have done. We are going to have the platform understood. Protection to American citizens, protection to the property of American citizens, protection to our border from invasion, the rights that we have given our nation relatively to another nation at our doors.

We are going to insist that these obligations be performed, which we, as the United States, are going to have performed; that we don't propose any meddlesome policy; that we do not propose, while we wish well for every one in Mexico, to do anything that is contrary to their wishes if they do what we are entitled to have done. Put that clearly before them, insist upon that and we will make some progress towards having it done at the earliest opportunity and our policy should be to see that it is done and that promptly.

"There is not a particle of militarism in my suggestion, but there is a sturdy determination, if I am put in a place of executive responsibility representing all the American people, 'to see to it' and that is my purpose—that America's rights are safeguarded and that America's name in administration, in policy and in execution is honored throughout the world."

Made Six Speeches.

Mr. Hughes spent a busy day in the stifling heat of Detroit. He made six speeches between noon and 10 p. m. The first talk of the day was delivered in a little room of the hotel in which he made his headquarters and was addressed to about 40 manufacturers interested in the social welfare of their employees. The second address, delivered in the same room, was on suffrage. One woman heard him declare in New York, that he wanted the question speedily settled by granting women the vote through amendment to the Federal Constitution.

After lunch the nominees went to the ball game. He shook hands with members of the Detroit and Philadelphia American League teams and watched one inning of the game. Then he motored away to two of Detroit's big automobile factories and addressed crowds at each on industrial co-operation. Between speeches he held many short conferences with local political leaders, shook hands with about 2000 persons and took two short naps.

"The working men of America," said the nominee in the speeches at the factories, "are not asking for anything they should not have. All that they want is a square deal. You workmen want to be protected from any unnecessary injury at your work. You want to have wholesome conditions—safe hours, a fair opportunity to share in what you make, and the reasonable profits that accrue to every industry. "We have all got to work together. No such thing as prosperity exists for just one class in America unless it exists for all. It is all together; all go up or all go down together."

"Do not let us get this country into a low patriotic plane so that we are content—content with the disesteem with the scoff of the world. 'I am an American citizen' ought to be the proudest title in the whole world."

DEPORTED ARMENIANS' PLIGHT DESCRIBED IN DISPATCHES

Witnesses Say Famine & Once Have Eaten Grass and Locusts—Children Perish on Trip.

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—Details of a desperate condition of deported Armenians in the deserts of Northern Arabia and the lower Euphrates Valley are contained in a cable dispatch to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief.

Witnesses say they have seen famished Armenians eating grass, herbs and locusts; and, in desperate cases, animals found dead and human bodies are reported to have been eaten. Report is made of the gathering of a group of 100 children whom they placed in care of an educated young widow from "says the dispatch.

"Two weeks later these children were deported and from two survivors it was learned that the rest had perished."

GAS, ELECTRICITY AND TELEPHONES IN CAMP AT LAREDO

Artillery Surgeon, Here on Leave, Says St. Louis Battery Is Healthy.

More than 150 telephone calls from anxious relatives and sweethearts of guardsmen on duty with Batteries of St. Louis, now encamped at Laredo, Tex., were received at the battery's headquarters, 1221 South Grand avenue, yesterday afternoon, by Dr. Louis T. Pim, surgeon of the First Battalion Field Artillery of Missouri. Most of the mothers wanted first of all to know if their sons were well physically, and on being assured by Dr. Pim that the health bill of A Battery was excellent, appeared resigned to further separation from their boys. Dr. Pim, who is on a 15-day leave of absence, was called from the camp by the news of the illness of his wife.

The sanitation of A Battery is excellent, according to Dr. Pim, and the only hospital case reported had been due, he said, to carelessness on the part of the men themselves. There has been but one serious case of illness, now convalescent.

"A soldier with a dollar is an easy mark," Dr. Pim said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "and many of the men stuffed themselves with knicknacks bought near camp. Others were sick because they disobeyed instructions, drank a lot of water and then went out in the sun."

Dust Eliminated.

The dust problem in the battery camp was ended, the doctor said, by the purchase of great bags and the sprinkling of them about.

"The camp streets now are like pool tables," he added.

Members of Battery A have no ground for any complaints regarding the food, Dr. Pim said. They get wholesome food, well cooked and palatable. The menu is varied daily. The variety of food includes fresh beef, bacon, potatoes, onions, corn, rice, beans and other articles. For desserts are served bread and rice puddings or custards, and for beverages the men get coffee and iced tea.

The length of stay of the troops at the border is impossible to estimate, the doctor said, but officers and men believe that if they are on the border until Oct. 15 they will remain until Christmas and possibly until March.

Living conditions at the camp are pleasant. Cooking is done by natural gas, electric lights have been placed in the tents and telephones have been installed. Each man sleeps on a cot of the common folding variety. Seven men are assigned to each Sibley tent. The cots are placed like the cots of a row, each man sleeping with his head to the outside. Bedacks placed on top of the cots make them more comfortable.

"There are no mosquitoes and few flies," Dr. Pim said. "Much has been written concerning deadly camp pests, of the centipedes, scorpions and tarantulas, but this reports have been exaggerated."

Hospital cases, ranging from such bites have been rare. The men of the battery have allowed the freedom of the town every night after the ceremony of "retreat," which comes at 7 o'clock. They must return before "taps" at 11 o'clock."

Only one or two men of A Battery have quit under the War Department ruling regarding guardsmen with dependents, Dr. Pim said.

The section devoted to Girls' School Dresses should be the scene of intensest activity tomorrow. It's Girls' Dress Day in this stirring August campaign and the extreme values presented are examples of hundreds of others equally important on display throughout every section of this store and designated by the special yellow price tickets.

Look for the special yellow price tickets in every section—they mean much to economists.

Contributions reaching the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund yesterday totaled $20,30, which carried the total for the campaign to date above

A popular theory in economics is that the accumulation of each additional $1000 after the first one is accomplished with increasing difficulty. The sum raised thus far in the current season is two-fifths of that needed to be fully the work of guarding the health and lives of the babies dependent upon the benevolence of the community for pure milk and free ice. The vacation period in which the children of St. Louis have the most time to try to reach the mark set is just four weeks. While the campaign does not end with the vacation period, the time and opportunity of the girls and boys for the work is limited after school hours.

The financial outcome of "Little Miss Muffet Lost and Found," produced under direction of Mrs. Marguerite Hopkins, director of the Children's Choral, and Mrs. Nedra Master Arnold, director of the Armistice School of Expression, at Harberger Hall, on the evening of Aug. 31, was $180. Acknowledgment of that handsome addition to the fund is made by the Post-Dispatch today. While the cause of the poor babies was thus substantially aided, there was at the same time an evening of delight afforded an audience of nearly 600 persons by the exceptionally capable company of young girls who adequately produced the picturesque operetta, with which a splendid cabaret was doctored. The performance is to be repeated in the latter part of September, with added features.

"Help save the babies" is the slogan which children have for several days been sounding with success in connection with the big show to be given this evening on the lawn of 6010 Elitzman avenue, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rhoads. In this entertainment 12 girls and boys are actively interested. The entertainment is rich in promise, with variety in selections and gifts of a pronounced type in the young people who are to interpret them. Eight of the program solos are vocal and instrumental solos and duets, including piano and violin, and four are songs with fancy drill movements. The latter element of the entertainment includes a strikingly picturesque Indian drill of the tableau type. A large audience is assured, for the sale of tickets in advance by the children has been liberal. The admission prices are 10 cents for adults and 5 cents for children.

Little Selma Pachter, who added largely to her laurels as a reader in the cabaret feature forming a part of the notably successful production of the operetta "Little Miss Muffet Lost and Found," July 31, is untiring in her endeavors in behalf of saving the babies of the congested districts of St. Louis. This 8-year-old artist will assist in the entertainment that is to be given Thursday evening on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hay, 1413 Gravina place, for the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. By request she will recite "The Dixie Dancer." The affair is to be a lawn fete, and a large section of that fashionable neighborhood in which it is to be held is imbued with the spirit of active sympathy that insures its success.

Filled with the abiding sympathy for the distressed infants that inspires her to annual support of their cause through the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, Mrs. J. B. Carpenter of 6031 Westminster place, was among yesterday's contributors to the extent of $5.

A clever vaudeville entertainment was given by several talented children at 2219 Carr street Saturday. It yielded $4.55 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. An impersonation of Charlie Chaplin by one of the boys captivated the audience. The entertainment was given by Bessie and Ethel Goldstein, 2234 Carr street; Celia and Etta Sigel, 2230 Carr street; Jennie and Lottie Bernstein, 2230 Carr street; Mary Holtzman, 2214 Bidle street; Florence Cohen, 2219 Carr street; Edith and Ruth Weinberg, 2220 Carr street; Etta Marcus, 2216 South Broadway, and Matilda Ross, 2219 Carr street.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my platform will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Sons of British Tory Party.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to communications which recently appeared in your columns in regard to race hatred of past generations and signed "Irishman," if Irish at all, seems to be rather too strongly "Ushered." The writer of this is Irish to the bone and the marrow within the bone, too, and we are willing to avow, acknowledge and swear that we hate England with a blistering, scorching, burning hate that nothing can efface, only the restoration of Ireland to complete liberty for which she is so well fitted and regaining her former prestige in learning and letters for which she was so conspicuously noted in former ages, which England has prevented her obtaining for so, these many centuries. We hate England for the breaking of the Treaty of Limerick, which the English broke before the ink had dried on the paper that it was written on, and for the treachery of the City of Limerick, a living witness of the truth of this assertion. We hate England for the slaughter of Irish women by English soldiers and the Sabering of the children "just to hear the bloody bairns squeal." We hate her for the killing of Robert Emmett and the Manchester Martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien. We hate her for compelling Michael Davitt to eat the tallow candle she measured to him by the inch to read with, but which poor Davitt, though a lover of reading, was compelled to eat to sustain life. We hate her for the terrible cruelty she displayed in the killing of 15 Irishmen in the City of Dublin recently, one of whom had to be propped up on crutches and thousands of young Irish school boys thrown in English dungeons which to them is worse than death. We hate her for the countless other crimes she has committed against Ireland, such as trying starvation, priest hunting, etc., etc.

ANOTHER IRISHMAN.

Summer Suits for Policemen.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Seeing in your paper about our patrolmen having such warm suits, I would suggest that in summer time it would be well to have their suits of navy blue silk. It does not catch dust and is cool. The patrolman can have the brass buttons, too, and still have a nice, cool uniform.

SYMPATHIZER.

Cassatt's Execution.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
One of your interested morning contemporaries has an able editorial on the inexpediency of Cassatt's execution. Most people assume the same attitude—a position based entirely, I fear, on the inexpediency of alienating the Irish vote. It would be refreshing to see some paper take a clear-cut, strong position on some question from principle, rather than from expediency, fighting for an idea because it is right, no matter how unpopular it may be. The Post-Dispatch has done this on pure Americanism against hypocrisies. I should like to see it take a similar position on the execution of this traitor. The only possible reason for not executing him would have been that all capital punishment is wrong at all times, under all circumstances and for all causes. No murderer that ever caused the death of many trusting innocents, no traitor who ever tried to stab his Fatherland in the back when it was engaged in a death struggle with an unscrupulous and relentless foe, was ever more justly executed. Cassatt took his life in his hands, and the only sensible thing for him and his friends to have said was—"Well, they got me." "They got him"—that's all.

Bah, this gush! Flowers and lunches for Dues-trow! Asylums for Guitteau! It is weakening and enervating to our national character. Our real preparedness needs to begin right here. We need Farragut's spirit: "Damn the expediency; go ahead. And our great religious dailies—let them as really such—can serve their country no higher, truer way than by instilling into our hearts strength, not weakness—iron, not expediency."

REAL MERcy TO ALL.

Important to Rooster Owners.

Rooster owners may keep their roosters to prevent crowing and nibbling. When rooster has settled down for the night, nail a board to the sides of the shed so it will form an inclined plane just above his head. In the morning he will not crow at an unseemly hour, because roosters must stretch their necks when they crow. The board will check this. Roosters are useless so far as egg-laying goes. The best eggs are from flocks where there is no male fowl.

NEIGHBOR LOVER.

CHEAP MONEY FOR FARMERS.

The governing board of the new Federal farm loan banks has organized at Washington and is perfecting the plans for making available a new and almost inexhaustible source of credit for farmers.

We begin to realize with this meeting that a dream of many years is about to take tangible shape. It will be only a few months before the farmer who wishes to borrow money for new land, for livestock or machinery or to improve his farming or his manner of living can get it on easy terms at an annual cost of six bushels of $1 wheat, instead of eight bushels or 16 bushels or even 12 or more bushels for each $100 borrowed.

In other words, for each $100 of his debt he will have to cultivate only about a third of an acre, considering average yields, of his wheat land for the benefit of the man he owes, instead of half an acre or two-thirds of an acre or more.

The new plan of credit utilizes in part the familiar principle of the building and loan associations. The local associations, however, are chartered by the general Government, rather than the states, and are strongly centralized.

At the head of all the local bodies in each of 12 districts into which the entire United States will be divided is a farm loan bank with a minimum of $750,000 capital. Each bank is empowered to issue and sell bonds secured by farm mortgages to the amount of 20 times its capital, making the minimum each can lend to farmers of its district $15,000,000. Loans are paid back in annual installments after not less than five and not more than 40 years. Bonds bear 5 per cent interest and the maximum interest the farmer pays is 6 per cent.

Thus, for a yearly payment of $500-$800 in interest and $200 in principal—a farmer of small means can enjoy the ownership of a $5000 farm and have the entire debt discharged in 25 years. He often pays that much now in interest and commissions alone and owes as much at the end of the 25 years as at the beginning or, as a tenant, pays as much in rental without acquiring any title to the land.

This new system is one of the great achievements in constructive performance under the present administration, looking to the mitigation of hardships, better living conditions and greater permanent prosperity for the whole people. Before it is in operation financial institutions in Texas are offering cotton growers loans at 6 per cent, an unheard-of low rate in that section. It will not only effect greater changes in the toilsome conditions of farm life than the introduction of good roads, rural post delivery and the telephone, but supply education on scientific taxation.

The most obstinate class opponents of a rational plan of taxing credits are the farmers. The idea of taxing the city capitalist on money owed to him, and particularly the hard-fisted local townships, money lender, according to a system differing from the taxation of his own acres is repugnant to the farmer.

But will he continue obstinate when he sees that all Federal bank mortgages on his land and all bonds secured by such mortgages are forever exempted from Federal, state and municipal taxation, was compelled to eat to sustain life. We hate her for the terrible cruelty she displayed in the killing of 15 Irishmen in the City of Dublin recently, one of whom had to be propped up on crutches and thousands of young Irish school boys thrown in English dungeons which to them is worse than death. We hate her for the countless other crimes she has committed against Ireland, such as trying starvation, priest hunting, etc., etc.

THREE TRIMMERS' STRIKE.

An important work in sabotage while the strike of the City Forester's tree trimmers lasts has been undertaken by a volunteer force of bugs and caterpillars. All spraying having been suspended the bugs and caterpillars on trees in and near Forest Park are improving every hour.

The position of this volunteer force is that, so far as this particular strike is concerned, at least, there is nothing to arbitrate.

BULL MOOSE DIALOGUE.

The Progressive delegates from 27 states who met at Indianapolis adopted an address to the course containing language as follows on the course of their National Committee in endorsing Mr. Hughes.

Illegal usurpation of authority.

Repudiating the same as not expressive of the party's thought and wish.

Grievous effect upon the party of the blow. Betrayal by the National Committee of the trust confided in it by the party membership.

Collusive undertaking with the Republicans to deliver our party strength to the Republican presidential ticket.

Entirely repudiated in every state where there was free discussion and action.

Treasonable attempt to put us out of existence as a national party and deliver our vote to the Republicans.

The failure of the Bull Moose to work the word "infamy" in somewhere seems curious but possibly they thought the Colonel had a copy, right on it. The fiction of the address as a whole makes it evident that the Colonel left the party so hastily he neglected to take a large part of his private stock of adjectives and terms of invective with him.

A HEAT FROSTATION PROBLEM.

In 10 lists of heat prostrations up to date in St. Louis, 118 were men and 27 were women. The heaviest day's list showed 41 male victims to 11 female. No day was without its record of men prostrated, while two days in the 10 had no women reported as prostrated.

Here is a problem for the physicians and health officers to throw light upon. Why is it that more than four times as many men are dangerously affected by the heat and either suffer grievously or die in a protracted hot spell? Of course, the first answer that comes to mind is that the men are usually more exposed to the sun and are doing heavier work. On the other hand, they are supposed to be harder. They are generally used to the exposure, and they have the benefits of fresh air.

If Sister Susie's naphthalene bags overcome the exposure, it would be well to try them on the ban-air, exercise and change of scene. The women, shut up between heated walls; or if they go to work, forced to wear tight corsets, are also supposed to be more easily overcome.

The layman can only guess at the true answer.

"RIGHTS BEYOND THE COAST LINE."

There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line—Mr. Hughes at Detroit. But that was the precise platform from which men of Mr. Hughes' party have made vicious attacks on Mr. Wilson in Congress for upholding the contrary platform with a courage and ability not surpassed in American history.

It was the platform on which the 103 Republicans supported the McLemore resolution in the House, visiting reproof on the President, and on which many Republicans supported the Gore resolution in the Senate.

It is the implied platform on which German-American votes are being counted in advance for Mr. Hughes because the President sturdily insisted that an American citizen's rights do not stop at the coast line, that he has a right to trade beyond the seas, not to be infringed by embargoes; that he has a right to protection against deadly submarine assaults.

The paraphrase of his speech of acceptance presented by Mr. Hughes at Detroit contained nothing to check the relentless pursuit of the implacable interrogation point. His criticism of diplomatic appointments will strike a chill to hopeful Republican aspirants for jobs.

Are we to understand that their claims for foreign places are to be ignored if Mr. Hughes is elected, and such experienced men as the two Pages, Brand Whitlock, Mr. Gerard and others are to be continued in the positions in which they have established standards of diplomatic efficiency never surpassed under former administrations?

SETTLER MILK DRIVERS' STRIKE.

A strike and lock-out, as in the case of the present milk wagon drivers' strike, has the effect of threat of starvation to thousands of babies and invalids, is of all labor battles the least justifiable.

True, both sides to the controversy claim that arrangements have been made that will prevent suffering—that all families where there are infants or invalids will be supplied with milk. But can they make this promise good?

As usual, the poor will suffer most by this strike. Women and children will be compelled to tramp long distances and stand in line waiting for a dole of milk, as if the town were in a state of siege.

Let the leaders on both sides come together again and arrange for arbitration, so that the delivery of milk may go on. It is unreasonable to say that they cannot do this.

JUDGE LAMM, COMPLETE ANGLER.

In an interview with Judge Lamm, in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, he is reported as saying that

The Governor of this State should know and love the State and all its people, its history, its uniform interests from the Big Tarkio to Atchison to Elk Chute in Peninscot—from Elk River in McDonald to Fox River in Clark.

This is rather mystifying, until, later in the interview, we read that the Judge's favorite recreation is fishing. The Big Tarkio, Elk Chute, Elk River and Fox River happen to be fishing waters in Missouri's corner counties. If Judge Lamm has dropped his hook in each of these, it is probable there are not many rivers, streams or backwaters in the State into which he has not cast a minnow or onto which he has not flicked a fly. And, of anglers in general, it was good old Isaac Walton himself who said that, like poets, they must be born so. Also that angling "is an art worthy the knowledge and practice of a wise man." And Sir Henry Wotton, a well-known British diplomatist who fished with Walton, found angling "a rest to the mind, a cheerer of the spirits, a moderator of passions, a procurer of contentedness, and that it begat habits of peace and patience in those that professed and practiced it."

After angling for the votes of a majority of Missouri voters, Judge Lamm will be entitled to Isaac Walton's mantle as a complete angler. If he hooks the governorship, it will be doubtless due in large part to those qualities and habits of mind that must characterize a successful fisherman.

THE SHOE AND THE OTHER FOOT.

We await some such evidence of Mexican encouragement from Republican criticism before admitting the parallel—Globe-Democrat. The same "such evidence" is evidence of the same weight as the farcades of nonsense, including reports of American defeats and Mr. McKinley's resignation, circulated among Filipino insurrectionists and lyingly attributed to the anti-imperialists.

Reports just as wild, circulated among Mexicans and even printed in Mexican newspapers, establish the parallel to this extent. But doubtless Senator Lewis has even better evidence to substantiate his charge of the mischievous effect of G. O. P. aid and comfort for Mexican insurrectionists.

If not, what he said burlesques Republican anti-imperialistic denunciations in enlightening fashion.

SISTER SUSIE'S INSECT BAGS.

Sister Susie, not content with sewing shirts for soldiers, is making "insect bags" for them. The ladies of the Army and Navy Supply Committee of the American Defense Society have sewed and sent 1800 such articles to the New York Twelfth Infantry, N. G., on the Mexican border, where fleas and other vermin, including bandits, abound. The insect bag hangs over a man's shoulders, front and back, like a yoke and is filled with naphthalene—the object being to prevent him from smelling like a man. (Far be it from us to suggest also some sachet, talcum, Florida water, perfume, cologne, scented soap, nose powder and vanity box.)

But perhaps fleas are necessary to keep our soldiers from brooding and to reconcile them to an otherwise innocuous desuetude. The Mexican flea provides an abundant diversion, unfailing interest and plenty of wholesome exercise. He dispels monotony and dissipates homesickness. He tends to satisfaction with everything else, by contrast, and makes every other trouble seem perfectly welcome.

A HEAT FROSTATION PROBLEM.

In 10 lists of heat prostrations up to date in St. Louis, 118 were men and 27 were women. The heaviest day's list showed 41 male victims to 11 female. No day was without its record of men prostrated, while two days in the 10 had no women reported as prostrated.

Their Wedding Day

Two couples honeymooning get their bridal suites mixed up and it looks for a time as if a mistaken kiss or two would abruptly shatter youth's dream of love.

By Mary James.

JIM and Dolly were off at last. The train was moving, and there was nothing to do except furtively pick up the grains of rice that they occasionally found about their clothing. Dolly leaned back in perfect bliss against Jim's shoulder.

"Are you entirely satisfied and happy, dear?" she asked.

"Yes," said Jim. "There's only one thing I'm not quite satisfied with."

"What is it?"

"Will Lennox always said he'd be my best man, and I was to be his. If he hadn't been sent to Baltimore last year he'd have acted for me, I know."

"But couldn't he have come up from Baltimore, dear?" asked Dolly.

"I don't know—perhaps he couldn't get away," answered Jim.

Hours afterward they reached their destination. Jim proudly signed "Mr. and Mrs." on the register, and they were shown up to their apartment, after dinner.

"Dearest," said Jim suddenly, "would you mind if I went down and got a cigar? You know you told me I was to smoke."

"Of course not, Jim," answered Dolly. Nevertheless, when he had gone she felt horribly lonely in the apartment, with its magnificent furnishings. She waited and waited. Jim must be very careful about choosing a cigar, she thought. Then she became uneasy and paced the floor. At last, with a foolish, panicky feeling, she went down in the elevator and looked for Jim in the hall. Jim was nowhere to be seen.

"Your husband's just gone up madam," said the hotel clerk.

Dolly thanked him. She felt foolish to think that she had passed Jim in the elevator. She hurried to the door and was soon taken up again. She opened the door of her room.

"Darling!" exclaimed a manly voice, and she was folded into the arms of a stranger!

Dolly screamed, and the stranger's face expressed blank astonishment. He was a good-looking young man, and it was clear he had not meant to embrace the wrong girl. Still—

"How dare you! What are you doing in our apartment?" cried Dolly.

And suddenly she became hideously aware that it was not her apartment. The furniture looked very much the same, but—well, it wasn't.

Another in the Wrong Room.

DOLLY, unable to speak, fled, while the stranger followed her in hastening, as if afraid to make a suggestion. At the entrance to the elevator Dolly saw what was wrong. She had been taken up to the sixth story instead of the seventh!

She got into the elevator, and, as it shot up, she perceived the stranger making for the stairs. With a dreadful fear that he was going to try to cut off her flight, she fairly ran along the corridor of the story above. She burst into the room.

"Darling!" she heard a manly voice exclaim to a girl who was just entering the room. And, looking up, she was horrified to see Jim folding another.

Recipes Worth Trying

Frozen Fruit Cream—Three oranges, 2 bananas, 1 pint of strawberries, ½ can apricots, 1 pint cream, sugar to taste. Take juice and pulp of oranges, wash bananas, berries and apricots, rub through a hair or wire sieve. Add the cream and sugar to make quite sweet. Freeze as usual.

Lady Fingers—One cup sugar, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 even teaspoonful of baking powder, milk, 1 teaspoon of tartar, nutmeg. Mix with flour to roll out thin, sprinkle powdered sugar over, cut in long strips. Bake quickly.

Corn Graters—One egg beaten very light, 1 cup corn, ¼ cup flour, 1 even teaspoonful of baking powder, butter size of walnut, a little salt. Mix and drop by teaspoonsfuls and fry in deep fat.

Cold Mutton Cutlets—Trim one dozen rib cutlets, neatly remove every particle of fat, lard them thickly on one side, place them on the bottom of a steaming pan larded side up, add 1 can of onions, 1 whole bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, 6 whole peppercorns, cover with stock, bring quickly to a boil, put on back of fire where it cannot possibly boil for 1 hour, adding salt 15 minutes before they are done. Take out, drain, put them to press between two flat dishes, trim the bones with paper quillings. Serve cold, round shredded cabbage dressed with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Cold Salmon Baskets—Remove skin from boiled salmon, which has been cut in a good firm piece and chilled. Arrange on platter with watercress around and baskets made from cucumbers hollowed out to contain sufficient Hollandaise sauce for each portion, allowing one basket to each person, garnish with cut lemon and quarters of hard-boiled eggs.

COAL-DUST mountains are now repositories of wealth, says the Popular Science Monthly. Formerly huge piles of culm or coal dust were thrown out as so much waste, but with the introduction of pulverized fuel burning apparatus for locomotives and steam ships every coal mine is utilizing its coal dust.

Concrete as a material for gate structures in American irrigation canals is beginning to displace wood, its durability overcoming the disadvantage of higher cost.

Babies Die Because Mothers Don't Know

Most babies are born healthy—yet one in five still slips from its mother's arms each year—simply because mothers don't know the few simple things that will keep their babies well.

Plenty of air—plenty of care—and the right food—that's what your baby should have. The first two are easy—but the last? How are you to know what the right food is?

You know, if you cannot nurse your baby, he must have milk in some form. There is a way to give your baby all the good in cow's milk without subjecting his delicate stomach to the dangers that raw cow's milk so often carries.

Thousands of mothers are finding the right way everyday. They are bringing up their babies on

Nestle's Food

(A complete food—not a milk modifier)

Nestle's milk from healthy cows purified, then the tough, heavy curds are modified—the baby needs are added. Reduced to a powder it comes in an airtight can. No hand has touched it—no germ can reach it. To prepare you add only fresh water and boil one minute. It is a complete food containing all the vitamins needed to build a happy, healthy baby. Nurse your baby if you can—if you can't—keep him safe on Nestle's Food.

Lavan's Brilliant Fielding Saves Browns From Defeat; Third Base Is Weak Point

With Johnson and Austin Out, and Wallace Not Yet Ready, Armando Marsans Is Filling the Gap Acceptably — Sister Hands a Knockout Safety to Walter Johnson.

By W. J. O'Connor.

FIELDER JONES became involved with Clark Griffith, the Old Fox, yesterday, in a game of tactics and Fielder excelled, 3-2, in ten innings. This was the first victory of the season over the Griffins at Sportsman's Park and the Browns had to destroy the famed Fireball King, Walter Johnson, to win it. In eleven games with Washington the Browns have now won three and lost eight.

Conditions were such as to discourage the Browns in their first skirmish against the Washington enemy. Jones had an outfielder on third but his demeanor around the difficult corner only served to emphasize the versatility of the valiant Browns, who were revolutionizing baseball, and that embraced 14 consecutive conquests.

Marsans played third so well that he has taken the lead and may until either Jimmy Austin or Erne Johnson is ready to return to the trenches. The Browns are bound to make for slapping Catcher Thomas on the mask, while Johnson has his right arm in a sling.

Browns' Errors Not Costly. And no matter what their line-up is, the Browns continue to play a nearly leak-proof defensive game. They committed three errors, yesterday, which is three more than their usual daily output; but only one of these boot-scoops in the run-getting. Well, if you can't get the first out, why play all the outfielders and pitch. Marsans can play a good game, and he is ready to do so Friday. The Indians play three games in two days and Davenport may work the double-header.

Groom and Plank to Oppose Harper and Ayers in Twin Bill

BOB GROOM of Belleville will pitch the first portion of today's double-header against Washington, while Eddie Plank, who leased almost perfect relief of pitching to his team, will scale the peak in the final battle.

Groom probably will draw Harry Harper, the southpaw, who has won three games from the Indians. He is the best first out, while Ayers or possibly Shaw, will be Griff's nominees in the final.

Well, if Johnson says he will save Davenport to pitch two of the three games against Cleveland, then the Indians play Friday.

The Indians play three games in two days and Davenport may work the double-header.

He made a great stop on the short bounces and did a double play that saved Wainman's hide. Indeed, there is no shortstop in the American League who can start a double play quicker than Lavan. He hands the ball to Pratt, who is a pivot man on most of the short lines and saved the way for a Washington rally that yielded two runs and tied the score. However, that only means that the Indians have given Del's end of the deal is easy. And the combination of Lavan-to-Pratt-Sister now recognized as one of the most deadly in the game.

It was Sister, who hasn't been hitting up to his speed of late, who broke up the hot streak with the ninth innin.

The Michigan marvel went to bat with Shotton on second and two out and lammed a hit into the shortstop's glove at the northeast fence for what should have been a triple. Sister is credited only with a single, because Shotton was over the plate before George had fairly started.

That broke the Indians' confidence and gave the Browns confidence to annihilate the enemy in today's double-header. The Browns now are in sixth place and even though they divide today's double-header with the Indians, they have a chance to abide above the Washington enemy.

Lavan Brilliant on Defense.

One of the outstanding features of the current Brown offensive is the work of Dr. John Lavan at short. He's playing like a shortstop again. Sister's Park fans have seen him many a day. He turned one play yesterday that was worth the price of admission, a play in which that saved the game.

In the eighth inning, Lavan had the bases filled with none out in the eighth, fielded a single, and beat out a wild Milian, running for Gharber to left. This gave him a tighter defense, and he was able to get the runner off with the other side of the enemy escape him.

Fielder Jones played some of the tastiest work in the White Sox in the halcyon days of 1906. Suspicion SUSPICION'S a viper, a snake in the grass, that wrecks human lives with its fangs. It's coiled ever ready to strike those who pass, and sow in their hearts racking pangs. Nobie's been maimed in its cruel attack. There's only one thorough defense. It's this: Old suspicion will be in its tracks if met with good common sense. Luella's in love with Joe Baker, we'll say. He's gentle, he's kind and he's true. Along comes a friend well refer to as May and hands her a man—maybe two—that Joe has been smitten on Jennie or Clara. Joe vows there's no truth in the talk. She wonders, and bang! goes their romance right there. Suspicion has won in a walk. Let's make a resolve, gentle reader, today to throw this great curse from our breasts. Let's storm at his trenches and drive him away, the same as we fight other pests. And now I must close. Come and see me some time. Bring father and mother and sit. I'll lay off and show you the way I write rhyme. Perhaps I'll give sister a kiss.

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One
JONES is a musical fellow. But then he ought to be.
"Why?"
"Because he was born in a flat."

He Fixed It

THE wife of a well-known Broadway press agent was complaining the other evening because she had to wash the dinner dishes.

"Woman always gets the worst of marriage," she said. "This housework is destroying my good looks. I think the old rhyme is right."

"What old rhyme?" asked her husband.

"It goes like this: 'Husbands and cooks! Husbands and cooks! When a girl marries she loses her looks!'

"The husband got it right," he replied.

"I ought to go like this: 'Husbands and cooks! Husbands and cooks! When a girl marries she leaves off her looks!'"

OUR finest thoughts, at last, are only the rarefied and colored rust of our emotions.

Safety in Numbers.

I HAVE here," said the agent, "a utensil that no housekeeper can afford to be without."

"What is it?" asked the woman at the door.

"It's a combined corkscrew, can opener, pocket knife, screw driver, tack hammer, glass cutter, and—"

"Hold on a minute. I don't want any of those things."

"Why not?"
By keeping all those tools separate it is impossible for my husband to lose more than one at a time."

How Wives Grow Angry

DID you get a letter from Uncle Danforth today?" asked Mrs. Axel when her husband had lighted his cigar and begun to read the latest news concerning the great conflict.

"No," he replied.
"Did you have lunch with Mr. Padelford?"

"No."

"Did you see Mr. Muggsworth today?"

"No."

"Did you get any word from Mr. Sanford about that St. Louis contract?"

"No."

"Was anything done about opening a branch office in Philadelphia?"

"No."

After Mrs. Axel had gazed for a moment at her husband, she said:

"If you think I care anything about how you run your old business you're very much mistaken."

WHEN one has the courage to say "no" he usually says now!

Needed a Bracer.

WHAT is there about betting on horse races that is so bad for the health?" said young Mrs. Brown.

"I never heard of anything."

" Didn't you? Every time Charley makes a bet he comes home and says there is something wrong with his system."

Real Promise.

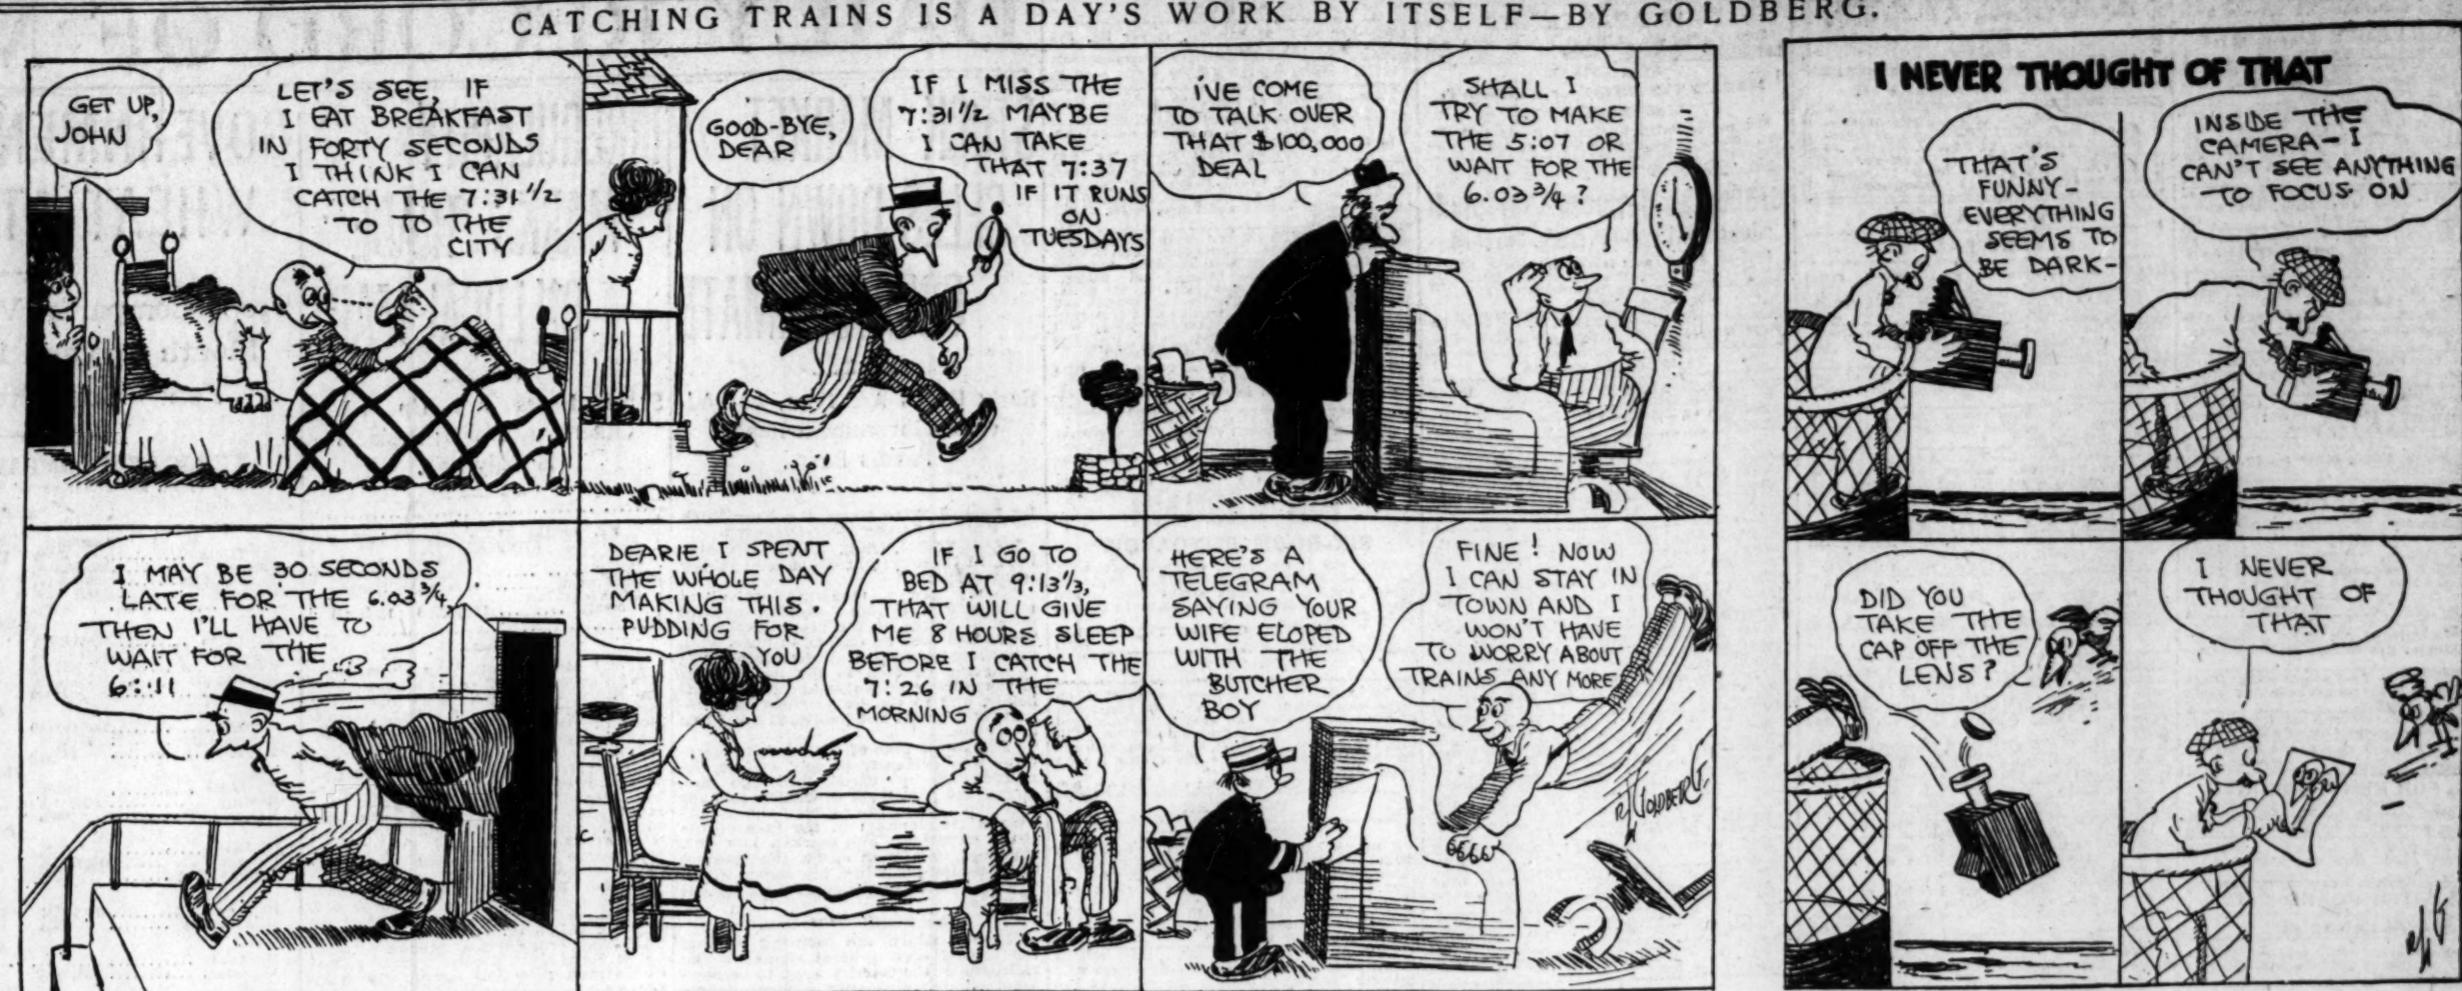

YOUR daughter has a wonderful voice. You ought to cultivate it."

"What for? A voice doesn't show up in moving pictures. But I've got a boy with a funny walk whom I expect to see drawing a thousand a week one of these days."

Fears.

THE Maid: Oh, no! I couldn't possibly think of getting married right away. Why not wait a month or two?

The Man: I'm afraid I'm going to lose my job next week, and then I won't be able to support you.

LUCILE THE WAITRESS

WIGHT you'd better be here when I get back," said Lucile the waitress, to the friendly customer, as he unfolded his napkin. "We had a poet as a victim. You know—one of those dreamy kind, who think barber shops are merely hanging out places for guitar and mandoline players."

"A regular poet, eh?"
"Sure!" he takes a seat on a stool and, after tossing back his hair, says to me:

"I'll take some nice eggs. Some tea without dreggs. Two slices of toast. I hear that you boast Of speed in this place: I hope that's the case. You're pretty. I see, And about thirty-three."

"There I stand, kid, taking it all in. When he finishes I'm sore. My age, you know, hasn't got no naturalization with my job, nor does it make any difference in the price of bean soup. So I give him one look and answer like this:

"That hair, to be plain, Has affected your brain. There's nobody home In your mop-looking dome; I'm just twenty-eight, And comments I hate; You're a fresh sort of dub, Now I'll get you your grub."

"Say, kid, you should a'seen him. First he looks scared and then he grins. 'So you're a hard yourself, eh?' he says.

"Just about that time Lizzie, the tow-head at the pie counter, chirps: 'I think the two of you ought to be barred.'

"I sat there in a minute, like an frustrated tress. Listen, you of the hopeless hair!" I says. "You ain't so much of an Ellis Wheeler Wilson yourself. I ain't forgot the poem you wrote to Jap, the new dish wrangler back to the pastry patch for you!"

"Well, sir, it closed her face and clamped it. At that the poet speaks like me."

"Probably not. Mamma and I have very similar tastes."

"What's the matter with Si's horse?"

"He used to be a police horse and he thinks he's on fixed post."

Facts Not Worth Knowing.

All professional contortionists and acrobats eat suppers that will bend easily.

Beware the Thoughtless Friend

I LOVE you dear," the maiden said, "I'm deep in debt for tires and things he's had to get. He'd like to give that car away. He curses it three times a day. And thus it goes: the thoughtless friend will oft his ev'ry effort bend to bring you joy, yet ere's through, you'd like to break that friend in two. But use your judgment, folks. I say, about the hugs that come your way. And, as for cars, do as you please. For some are good, while others wheeze.

Jimmy Up to Date.

JIMMY, an office boy in a downtown office, approached his boss one morning last week.

"If you please, Mr. . . ."

"Well, Jimmy . . ."

"My grandmother, sir."

"Aha, your grandmother; go on, Jimmy."

"My grandmother and my mother . . ."

"What? And your mother, too. Both very ill, eh?"

"No, sir. My grandmother and my mother are goin' to the baseball game this afternoon and they want me to stay home and mind my little kid brother."

Jimmy got the afternoon off.

Chance to Cut Up.

A OLD customer of a barber shop in Cincinnati was astonished to find one morning that, instead of his usual barber, there had been assigned to him a mere apprentice, the son of the proprietor.

"What!" exclaimed the old patron, "are you going to let this boy shave me?"

"Oh, come," said the proprietor. "Let the boy have his fun for once. It's his birthday, sir."

The contents of a barrel will be generally found on the inside.
